Pharaoh J. Clark is a 33 years old, native of San Antonio. Upon graduation from Judson High School in 2006, Pharaoh followed his passion for food and landed a career as a chef. His knack for the fast paced environment of a commercial kitchen and natural leadership skills made him a shining star who was quickly promoted to upper management before eventually becoming a personal chef, caretaker, and entrepreneur. Pharaoh J. Clark spends his time as a community advocate, a voice-of-the-people who leads San Antonio's charge against racial, social, and economic injustices.
