

2019 DISTINGUISHED GRADUATE

Analisa Ramirez

Early Childhood

“The only person who can pull me down is myself, and I’m not going to let myself pull me down anymore.”

- C. Joybell C.

Analisa graduated high school in 2014 but decided not to attend college right away. After working full-time for two years in a small office, she decided that she did not want to work in an office. When she thought back to her childhood dreams and her internship at Brooks Academy, she remembered that she really wanted to teach young children and be a strong role model for them.

In 2016, she began taking courses at OLLU. She was a biology major at the time, but then realized she wanted to pursue a degree in education to work with children. She enjoyed her time there, but it became too expensive. She started school at SAC in the Spring of 2017 and pursued a degree in Early Childhood Studies. She became a member of Phi Theta Kappa and started gaining experience working with infants through preschool aged children. She has found her calling and plans on being a Teacher’s Assistant. She plans on continuing her education at Texas A&M San Antonio to earn her bachelor’s degree in early childhood studies.
