Student Success

SPC Early College High School Grads Jump-Start Careers as Nurse Aids

St. Philip's College (SPC) Nurse Aide for Health Care Level 1 Certificate at SPC started in Fall 2018, including St. Philip's College Early College High School students. Two Spring 2021 graduates, Lizbeth Alcala and Isabel Garcia, who also completed their high school diplomas, secured employment with Regency Healthcare San Antonio. Both students recently celebrated the passing of their state certification.

Performance Excellence

SPC Library Trains on Antiracist Library Culture

St. Philip's College (SPC) Center for Learning Resources faculty and staff attended an online course presented by The Library Journal. "Fostering an Antiracist Library Culture" provided library faculty and staff with diversity, equity and inclusion concepts and actionable tools to enhance student experiences with collections, activities and displays at the library on both campuses.

SPC CDC Earned 4-Star Rating

St. Philip's College (SPC) Child Development Center was recently assessed by Texas Rising Star Assessors and earned the highest level of TRS certification -- a 4-Star Rating. The center was assessed in the areas of Child Interactions, Nutrition and Indoor/Outdoor Activities. The program received an incentive of $1,800 from Workforce Solution Alamo for being a Texas Rising Star Provider. The CDC provides an early education environment for children ranging in age from 18 months-and-walking to 5 years old. The CDC is children-centered and responsive to cultural, ethnical, and socio-economic diversity.
