Figure 17-1 (above) provides an overview of college participation rates by Bexar County school districts. College participation is defined here as enrollment in an institute of higher education (IHE) for the fall semester following high school (spring) graduation. The data displayed reflects fall 2016 enrollment. As shown above, no Bexar County school districts achieved greater than 50% college enrollment, although Northside, Alamo Heights, and North East ISDs achieved greater than 49% participation.
