Caring Campus-Ken Sherwood

Students come where they are welcome and stay where they feel cared about. Caring Campus is based on decades of research documenting that students who feel connected to their college are more likely to complete and succeed in their courses, persist from semester to semester, and achieve their educational goals. San Antonio College staff and faculty members have gone through coaching sessions to become a Caring Campus Institution. Ken Sherwood from the Institute of Evidence Based change will present what it means to be a Caring Campus.

Fearless Positivity-Amy Blankson

We all face fear, discomfort, and resistance to change, but our actions in the midst of these mindsets are what truly define us. Fearless positivity is not the absence of fear, but the audacious opportunity to move through it by focusing on what matters most. Amy highlights leaders who have courageously chosen positivity in the midst of adversity. She will examine how negative mindsets hold us back, why some fear is actually good for us and strategies to reframe stress to better serve us.

Safety Refresher Training

Unfortunately, violent events that occur on college campuses often have catastrophic results. Although these events are rare, there are effective responses you can learn. The Alamo Colleges District Police Department/Risk Management provides training for students, faculty and staff in the appropriate response of community members to an active shooter situation. The training is designed to empower San Antonio College members with knowledge and strategies for surviving an active shooter situation. Participants will receive instruction about how to prepare for and respond to being inside a building during an active shooter event. There are several simple steps that can be applied to assist the inevitable law enforcement response and limit the number of potential victims accessible to the shooter. Participants will identify the role they should play as a civilian before, during, and after an active shooter event. Sessions will be 45 minutes and run from 8:00AM-8:45AM, 9:00AM-9:45AM, 10:00AM-10:45AM, 11:00-11:45AM, 1:00PM-1:45PM, 2:00PM-2:45PM, 3:00PM-3:45PM
