

SEXUAL ASSAULT PREVENTION FOR COMMUNITY COLLEGES

Required training for students:

All entering freshmen, former and transfer students are now required to complete "Sexual Assault Prevention for Community Colleges". Sexual Assault Prevention for Community Colleges is an online survey and course addressing critical life skills. The training is our way of informing St. Philip's College students about Title IX standards, reporting violations and resources available.

All student who are required to take the training must do so before the end of their first semester of classes at St. Philip's College (to avoid a registration hold being placed on their account). To access the training: ATTENTION STUDENTS!

To access the Sexual Assault Prevention for Community Colleges training:

You Have the Right to Feel Safe

1. You will receive an invitation in your ACES email account. The subject line will read: Sexual Assault Prevention for Community Colleges.
2. Click on the link provided, and complete the confidential pre-survey at the start of the course. The Alamo Colleges District does not receive a copy of your responses.
3. The quiz at the end of the course is required to document your completion, but the score is not recorded and will not impact you in any way. Completion is documented on your student record.

Note: an alternative training is available; see your Vice President for Student Success for assistance.
